PASSION TO MOTIVATE

Though his success story has motivated countless people, he believes in sharing his knowledge and learnings in life, and is also a motivational speaker and has addressed more than 15,000 people in last one year at various events across the nation. As he is multilingual and speaks ten different languages to connect with people from different states of India, he has been passionately motivating students, which makes him a regular speaker at numerous management colleges. He is also a prominent Rotarian who has been conferred with the prestigious Paul Harris Fellowship. Towards his social responsibilities, he has also been actively working to promote the girl child education, and towards this cause, he is closely associated with Smile Foundation which supports education and growth of the girl child. As Mr. Aggarwal takes care of each and every aspect of his organization, he is the very foundation of his company, while together with his team he possesses the right combination of business acumen and ethics required to run a successful business.

GROWTH IS THE ONLY MANTRA

With a unique vision, he had established AVRO INDIA LIMITED in 2002 to bridge the important gap of affordability of plastic furniture and its quality. Thus, since beginning, he has focused on satisfaction of customers, while striving to be the best in the business and offering unmatched solutions complemented by stupendous growth, all of which have been duly acknowledged by industrial bodies. Always endeavouring to be at par with global standards and using some of the most advanced technologies for production in the world, he has taken care of all the different aspects of design, production, finance and marketing with his dedicated team of professionals who ensure maximum customer satisfaction. Under his insightful leadership, the company has also been listed on the National Stock Exchange of India under SME Emerge where it was oversubscribed within a few days.
