Teaching Plan: Helping students to master the subject matter which is taught in classroom and inculcate in them the habit of close reading. I intend to do my best to get desired results and focus will be on developing lively intellectual temper. It will help them to critically examine ideas and beliefs they take for granted and to see that neither side of an argument, usually, has monopoly on the truth. As the Buddhist saying goes “Things are not as they seem; nor are they otherwise.”

EXPERIENCE: I have more than 08 years post PhD experience in teaching undergraduate classes and total teaching experience is of 05 years.
